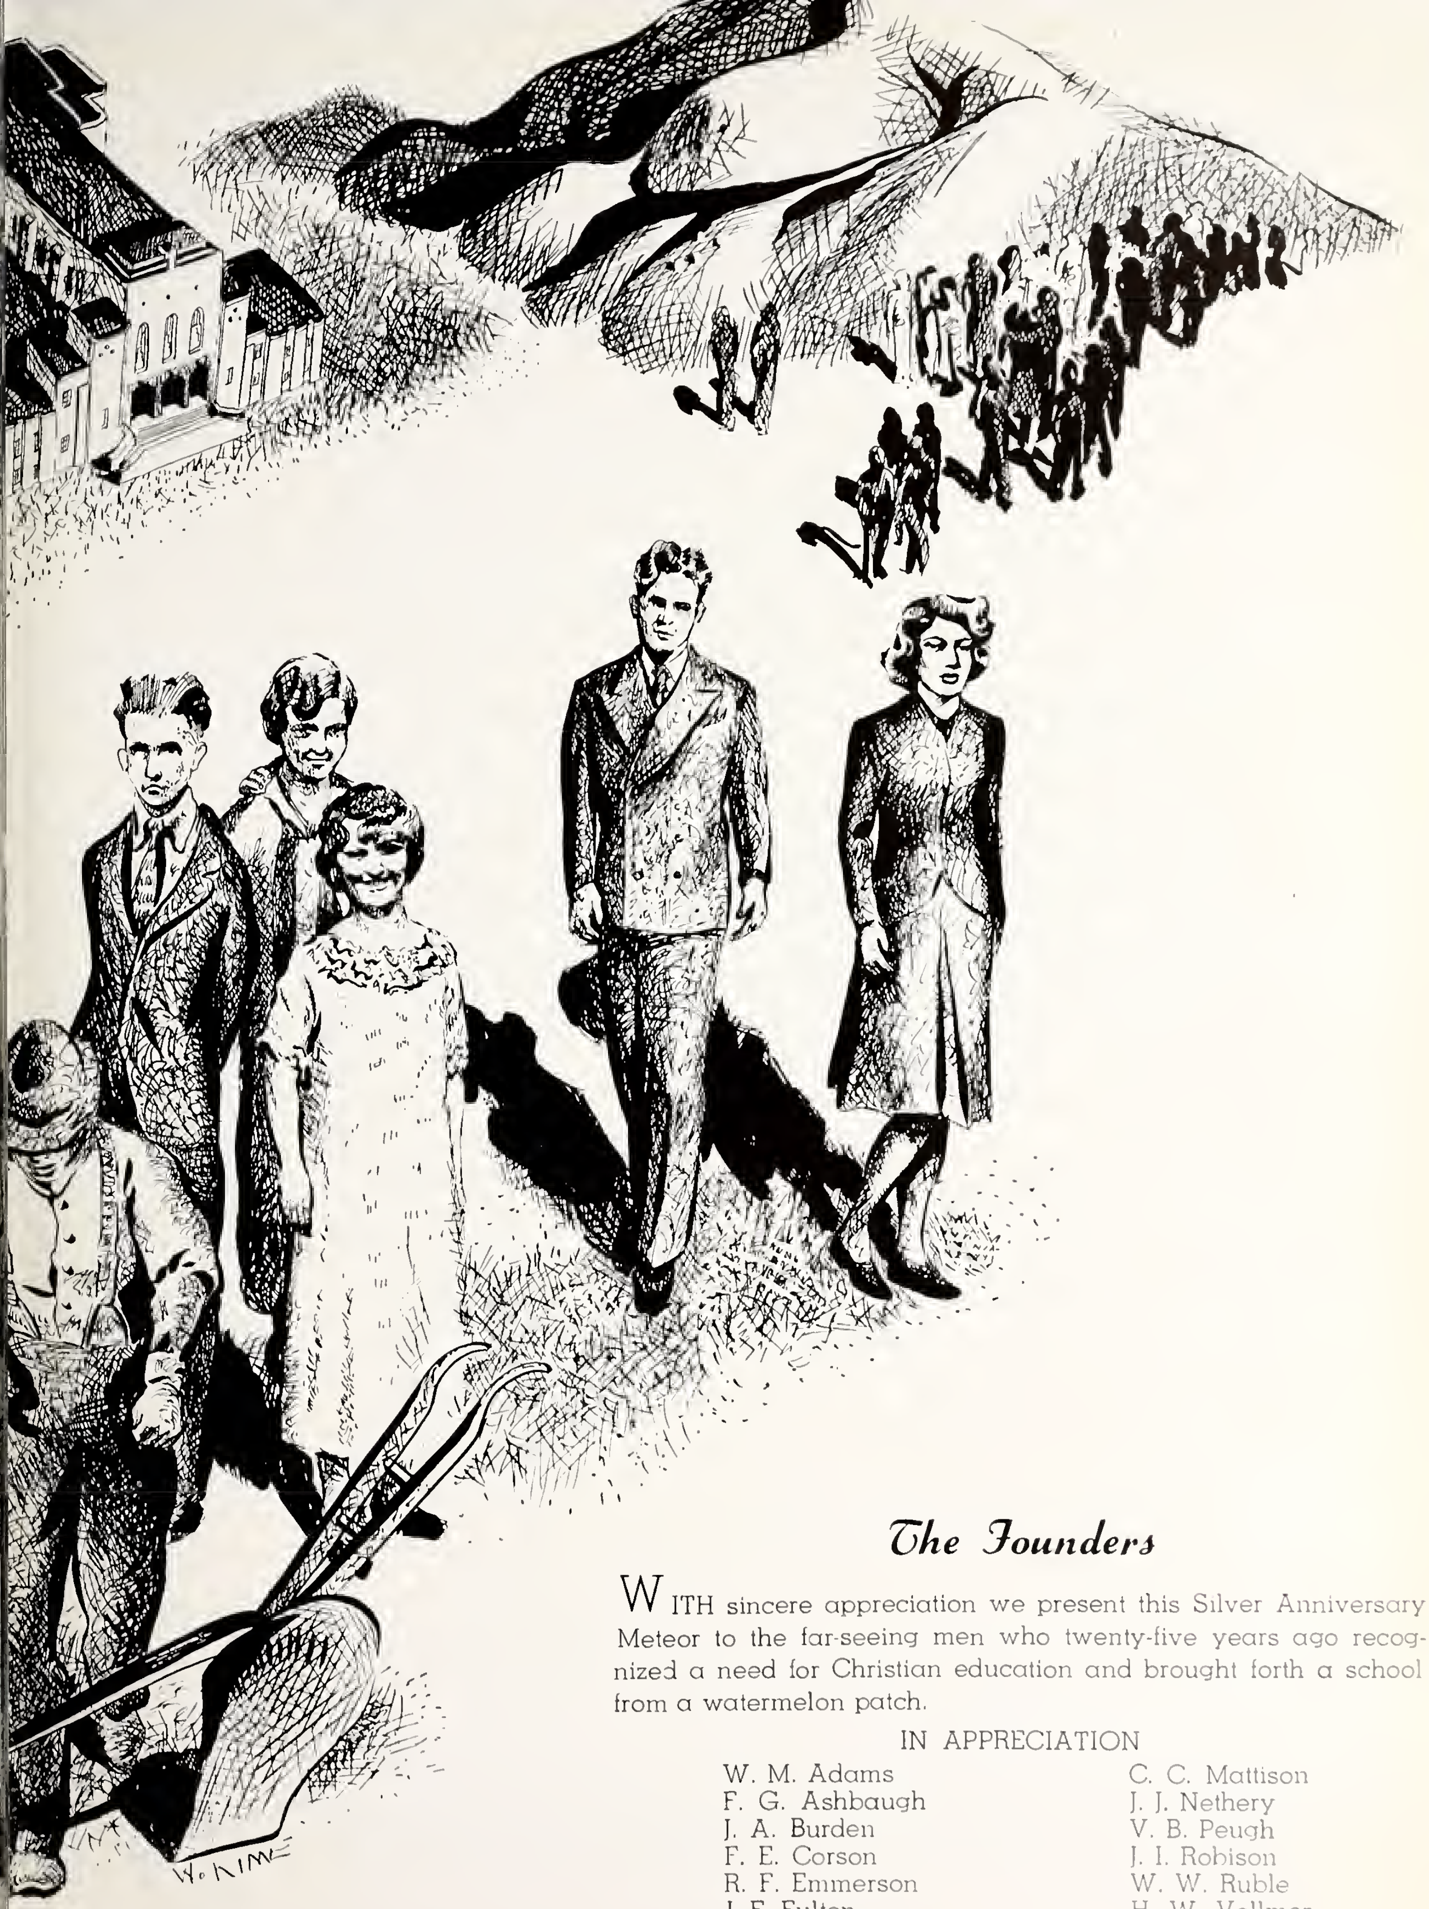
Dedicated to . . .



The Founders

WITH sincere appreciation we present this Silver Anniversary Meteor to the far-seeing men who twenty-five years ago recognized a need for Christian education and brought forth a school from a watermelon patch.

This is
La Sierra College

No matter what my birth may be,
  No matter where my lot is cast,
I am the heir in equity
  Of all the precious Past.

And mine the Future to bequeath
  Unto the generations new;
I help to shape it with my breath,
  Mine as I think or do.
—Brown

TO YOU, students, faculty, and alumni of La Sierra College, we present this Silver Anniversary Meteor. May the heritage of the past inspire you to make a wise investment for the future.

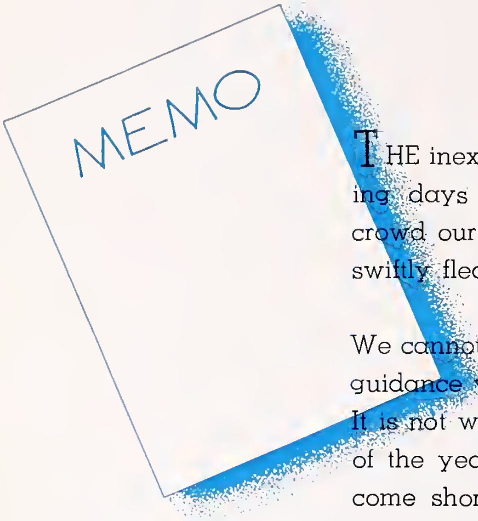
Familiar Scenes at College

WHEN we leave classroom lectures and examinations, how pleasant it is to walk beneath the palms and gaze beyond the tower of the food factory to the distant hills.

We Relax and Chat

BUT better yet is the friendly comradeship as we say, "hello," and chat of books and boys, of programs and parties, of teachers and tests.

. . . AND MEET PRESIDENT



THE inexorable onward flight of time has brought us to the closing days of another school year. Many pleasant memories crowd our minds as we reflect on the busy days which have so swiftly fled.

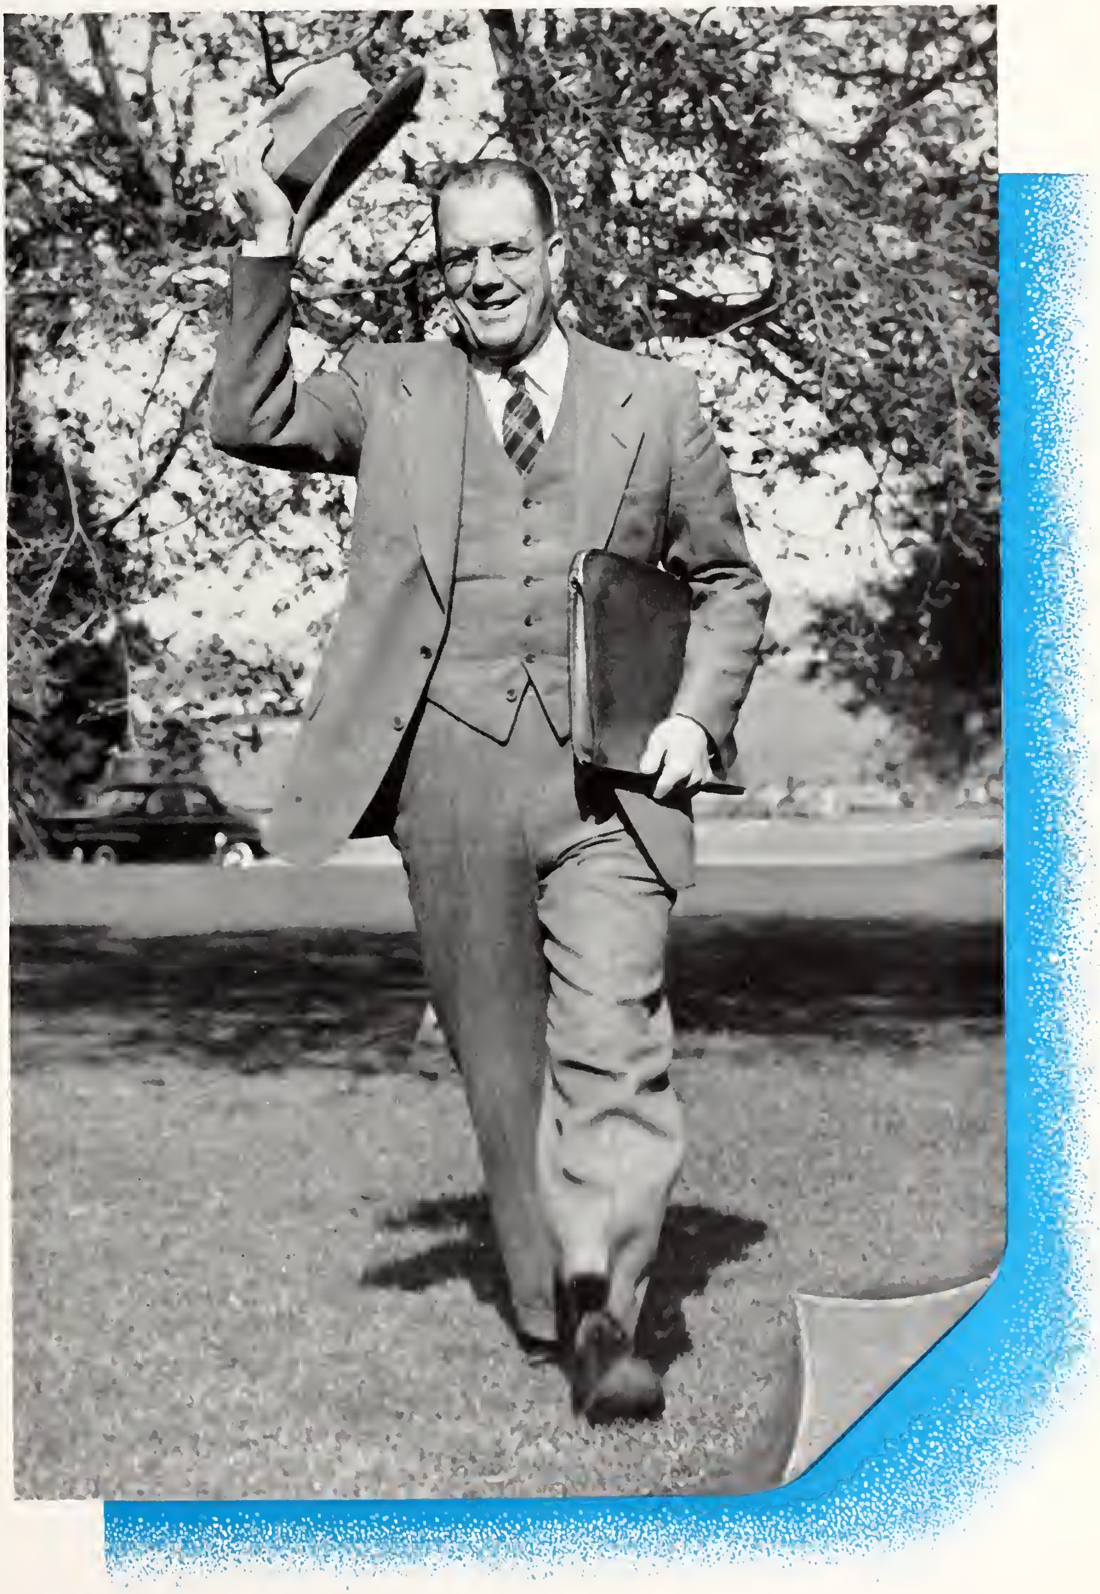
We cannot be unmindful of the evidences of divine protection and guidance which have been apparent throughout the school year. It is not within our power to measure the total accomplishments of the year, nor can we compute the extent to which we have come short of exploiting potentialities inherent in our situation. Intellectual advances have been made; qualitative and quantitative requirements have been fulfilled. Unless commensurate spiritual and moral progress has been maintained, our multifarious activities have been bootless.

The cries of our needy world impress us vividly with the need for Christian young people with proper training, with a message of hope, and with boundless vision. Unless La Sierra College has brought to its students a radiant faith and a conviction of their high destiny, it has come short of the dreams of his founders. It must measure its graduates in terms of service rather than from the standpoint of affluence and material success.

Our prayers and good wishes go with the members of the graduating classes of 1948 as they assume new responsibilities. Together we go forward to meet the challenge of a needy world; together we gird ourselves to complete the task committed to the church in this closing hour.

G. T. Anderson

ANDERSON



ARMED with a skeleton, a tub of science equipment, and a box of books, men with the indomitable spirit of pioneers built a million-dollar plant in a sandy watermelon patch. Armed with a Christian education, scores of youth have gone forth from this college to pioneer in the Master's service.

"BRETHREN, this may well be the place we have been looking for," exclaimed Elder J. A. Burden as a group of weary men rested in their shirt sleeves in the shade of a palm. Their hearts could not help beating a little faster as they looked out over the beautiful Riverside Valley. Before them lay broad stretches of level land, beyond that extended palm and citrus groves, and in the distance rose the snowclad peaks of San Jacinto and San Gorgonio.

With appreciation we remember Elder J. I. Robison, who as first principal of that embryo college fought the elements and poverty to fashion from two uncompleted buildings and a basketful of equipment a Christian school.

Special honor belongs to Elder J. J. Nethery, then president of the Southeastern California Conference, who nurtured this institution into existence. He not only organized the forces that brought this institution into being, but actually guided the plow that turned a watermelon patch into a shady campus.

The 1923-24 bulletin shows La Sierra Academy as the 84 students saw it during the first year.

Farm work was emphasized from the beginning. Mr. Stearns' home was built in 1925.

Workmen, under the direction of Howard Miller, preceptor, raced to complete the men's dormitory by the first day of school, Oct. 3.

In 1946, the same year that a tragic fire burned the old elementary school, the greatly needed new church was started.

TIME-HONORED masterpieces were never produced by the tyrant's lash nor the dreamer's revery. Worthy achievements, which endure the tests of time, are made by artists, creators whose gift comes from the divine Creator. True artists, true sculptors of mind and character, are these, our instructors, to whom we have submitted our unshapen selves for hammering, chipping, and polishing.

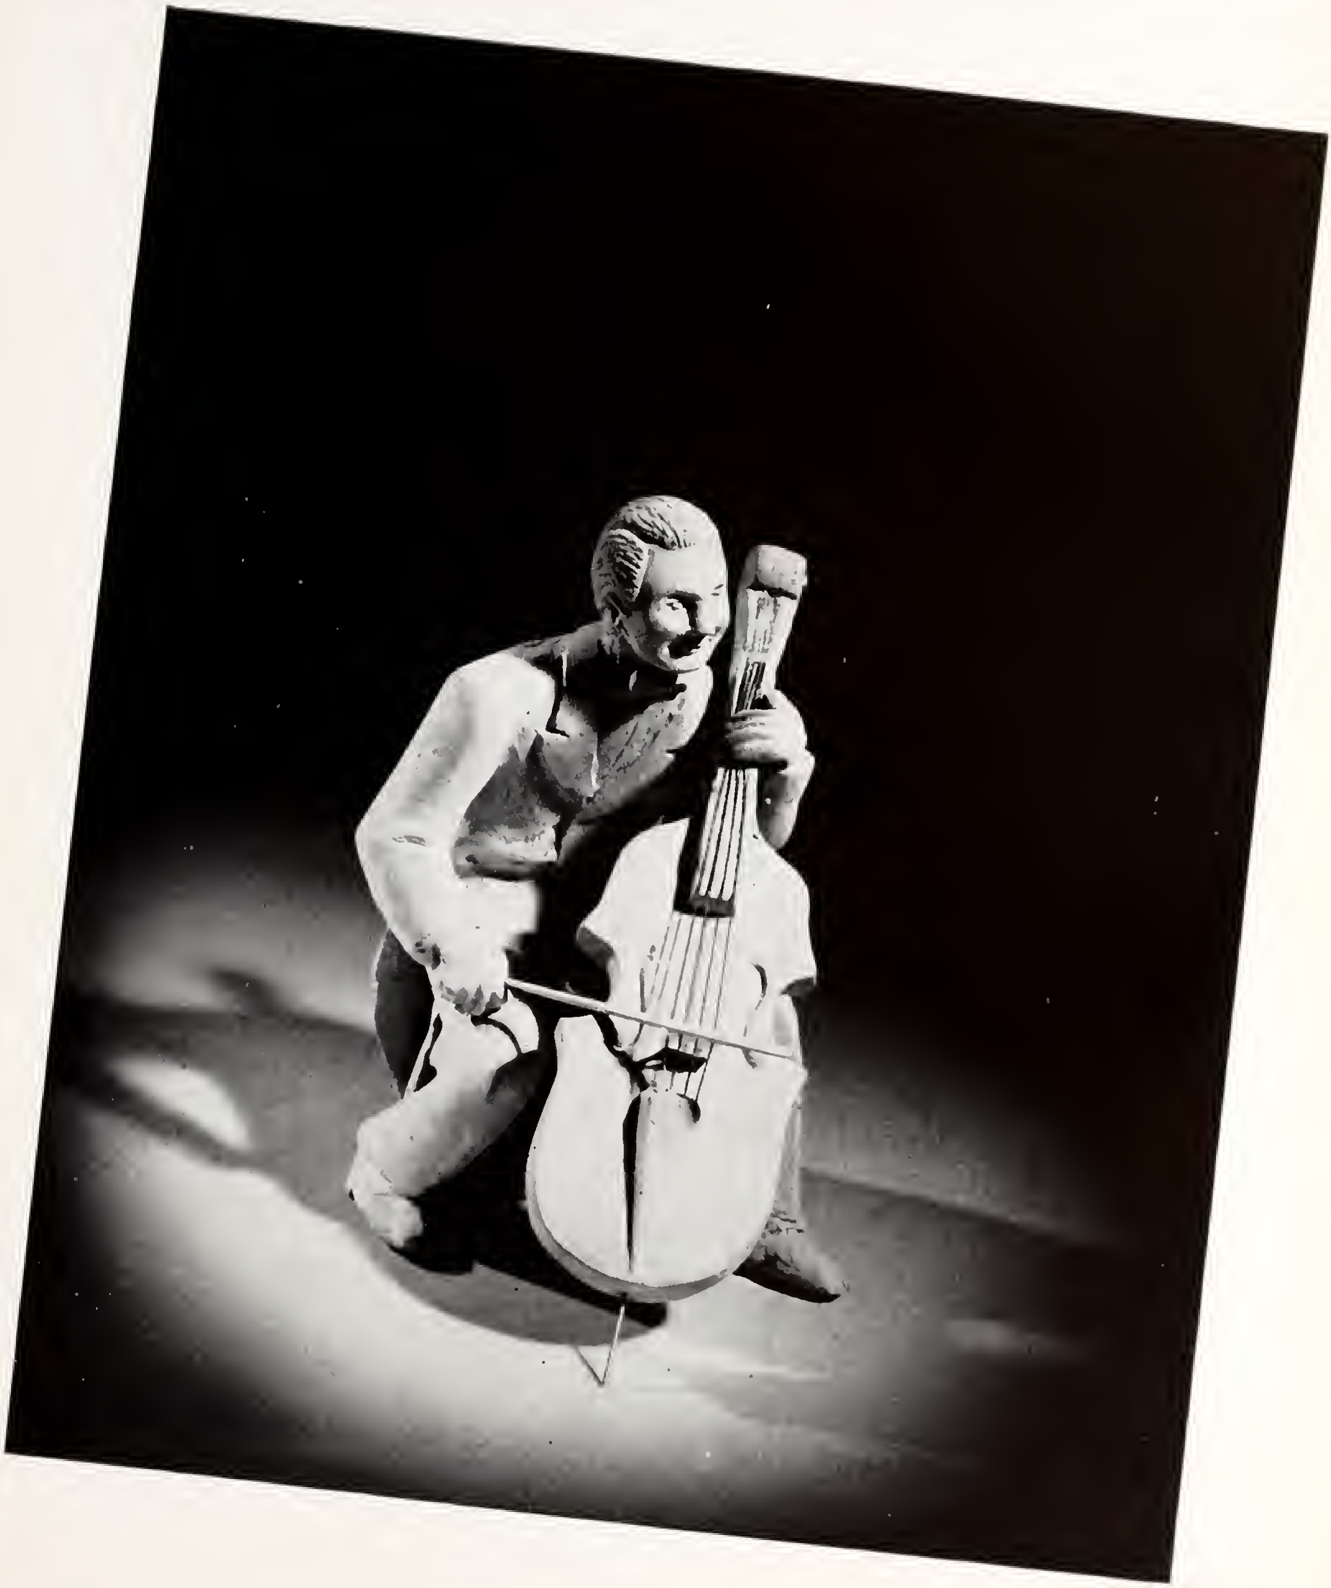
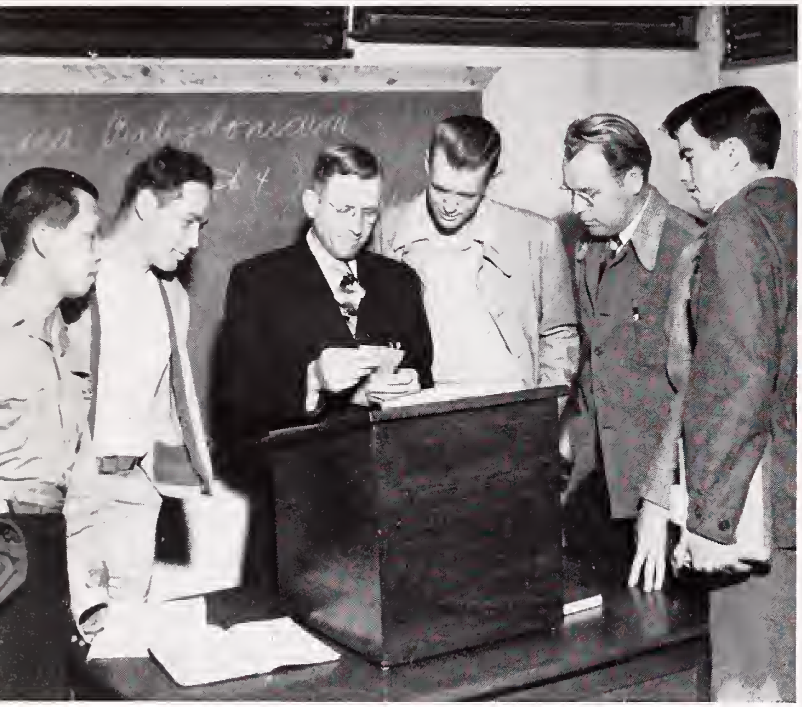
NO LONGER do we have the "log with a teacher on one end and a student on the other." Here our teachers number a hundred, the log has been processed into comfortable chairs, and the student has been multiplied by eight hundred. Yet friendliness and individual effort prevail with both teachers and students.

Fundamentals



Our Faith



William Khoe, Orva Ackerman, Elder Paul Heubach, Roger Coon, Reidar Schmidt, and Rodney Willard discuss a weighty problem.

Mr. Walter Crandall returns corrected papers to eager students in a "Life and Teachings of Jesus" class.

Elder Walter Specht and Dr. J. C. Haussler counsel with Jim Shuttleworth.

Wesley Kime, Gordon Collier, Cherrie Clough. Betty Stahlman, Bob Morris discuss "righteousness by faith" with Elder Edward Heppenstall.

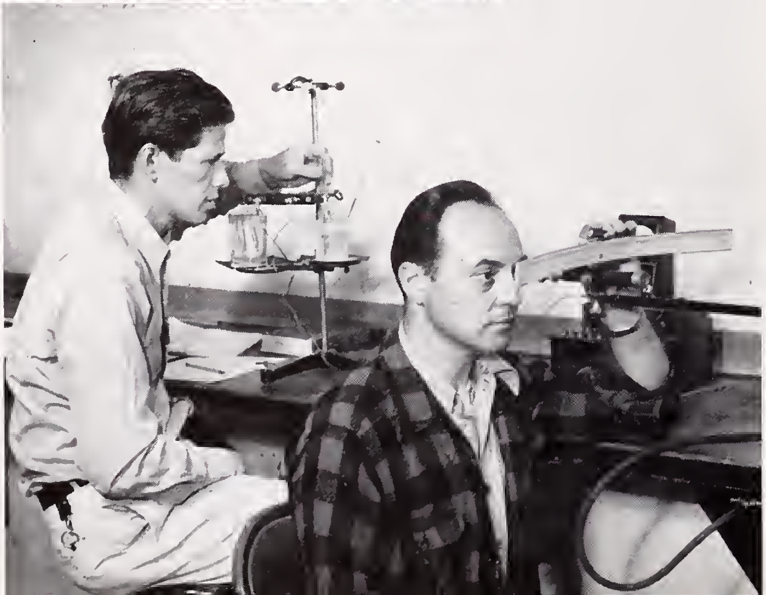
Chapel

Hole Memorial Auditorium is the battle ground of student opinion when once a month Bob Osborn pounds the gavel and calls the Associated Student Body to order.

Factor X

David Ekvall and Rolland Kime work problems in ionization and "ph" under the guidance of instructor Reuben Sprengel.

Ben Nelson and Milton Borg determining the heat of combustion with a Parr calorimeter in physical chemistry lab.



David Kirk and Bernard Saunders use a galvanometer and thermopyles in determination of thermoelectromotive force in general physics lab.

Jim Hall and Vernon Thomas dissect the cat in the sunshine.

The mysteries of the 36-hour chick are clarified by Professor Lloyd E. Downs as he illustrates from a wax model for Ernest Fujimoto, Jerry Reynolds, Deone Hanson, and Earl Hackett in embryology lab.

Gloria Kinch and Alice Hockin help Bob Palmer, Ann Counter and Betty Engen put "Phillip" together.

"Oscar" is examined with loving hands by Ray Bowen, Arlene Engevik, Marilyn McDonald, and instructor Miss Alta Groff.

Dora Husman makes a smear in microbiology lab.

Nursing

Nurses Vivian Golden, Esther Peifer, Betty Beem, and Gladys Ryder, who are working for their B. S.'s in nursing education, pose with their instructor, Miss Pauline Young.

Business

Frances Hill uses an Ediphone, Arthur Klein a Monroe Calculator, Channell Rockwell an electric adding machine, and Herbert Logan a duplicating machine.

The painfully fingered a s d f ; l k j soon became 50 words a minute under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Anderson.

Accounting students taught by Mr. E. Strauss Cubley will some day be ready to fill places of responsibility in denominational work.

A discussion of class studies, aptitude tests, and personality development can be very stimulating under the direction of Mr. George T. Simpson.

Humanly Speaking

Helen Szabo helps the children in Miss Mary Woodward's room to learn community life. Postman, Daniel Urska; clerk, Donald Etling; customer, Dona Davidson, think work is as much fun as play done in this appealing way.

THE WORLD LINE
OUR WORLD - 2

The earth is round like a ball
It has 360 degrees
The Arctic Circle is north.
The Antarctic is south.
We studied about the Pacific
We found many islands there.
Missionaries go to these islands
They travel in big boats.

The problems of European history are being explained to Miriam Smith and Bob Young.

Students listen as Mrs. Daisy Sturges explains a point in principles of geography.

THE study of human characteristics and attitudes common to mankind, the acquiring of culture, and the developing of vision to put into daily practice in after life the things that have been learned — all these are included in the humanities.

"Oh, that all might search diligently to know what is truth, to study earnestly that they may correct language and cultivated voices that they might present the truth in all its elevated and ennobling beauty."

"We need to study the working out of God's purpose in the history of nations and in the revelation of things to come, that we may estimate at their true value things seen and unseen; that we may learn what is the true aim of life; that, viewing the things of time in the light of eternity, we may put them to the truest and noblest use."—E. G. White

FROM BEETHOVEN TO HANNUM

ELLEN G. WHITE has said that music was made to serve a holy purpose, to lift the thoughts to that which was pure and noble and elevating, and to awaken in the soul devotion and gratitude to God.

Truly, music is the language of the soul. Music is life and life is music. In our music department we are taught how to express our inner selves through the media of music.

Mr. Hannum relaxes at home.

Mrs. Stenborn looks approvingly at the dress Donna Lee models.

The broad acres of our college farm meet the horizon in the beautiful Riverside Valley.

"Study in agricultural lines should be the A, B, and C of the education given in our schools." Professor Frank Judson instructs Walter Dunham and Betty Saunders in the fine art of vegetable gardening.

Agriculture

Galen Crane sits astride a mighty "cat," part of the modern equipment employed by the farm.

OF THE four hundred acres in our college farm, more than 265 acres are under irrigation. Water for irrigation is supplied by two deep wells equipped with turbine pumps. The farm, besides the vegetable gardens, fruit trees, and poultry, has a dairy herd of two hundred head, and a modernly equipped dairy and ice cream plant.

ARRANGING club programs, writing, and editing the Criterion every week, making a dummy for the Meteor, taking pictures, sponsoring a Spring Talent Festival, promoting a Good Form Week—all these can become much more than incidentals. Ask any student who has been honored by being elected to such duties.

Incidentals

ROBERT E. OSBORN

A.S.B.

Robert E. Osborn is the hard-working and efficient president of our Associated Student Body. Bob, as he is known on the campus, has demonstrated remarkable executive ability in guiding our A.S.B. from success to success in the many functions which our Association sponsored during the year.

K. F. Ambs, La Sierra College business manager, sits in conference with the Associated Student Body Executive Board which consists of A.S.B. Business Manager Art Klein, Parliamentarian Fred Rasmussen, Cultural Director Edith James, Religious Director Gordon Collier, second semester Vice-president Warren Johns, President Robert Osborn, Secretary Mary Farrar, Assistant Secretary Mary Neuman, Social Director Betty Beem, "Criterion" Editor Milton Murray, METEOR Editor Delos Champaign, and Faculty Advisor Margarete Ambs.

Student Executives

THE Nino Martini concert, the "Criterion" subscription campaign, the annual handshake, the snow picnic, the Spring Talent Festival, the Founders' Day program, College Day, Good Form Week, May Day banquet, the L.S.C.-P.U.C. exchange programs and of course your "Criterion" and METEOR have all required the time, patience, and hard work of the A.S.B.'s student executives. In addition to these highlights of the school year, there have been many more small, but tedious problems which these members of the A.S.B. Executive Board have carried with proficiency.

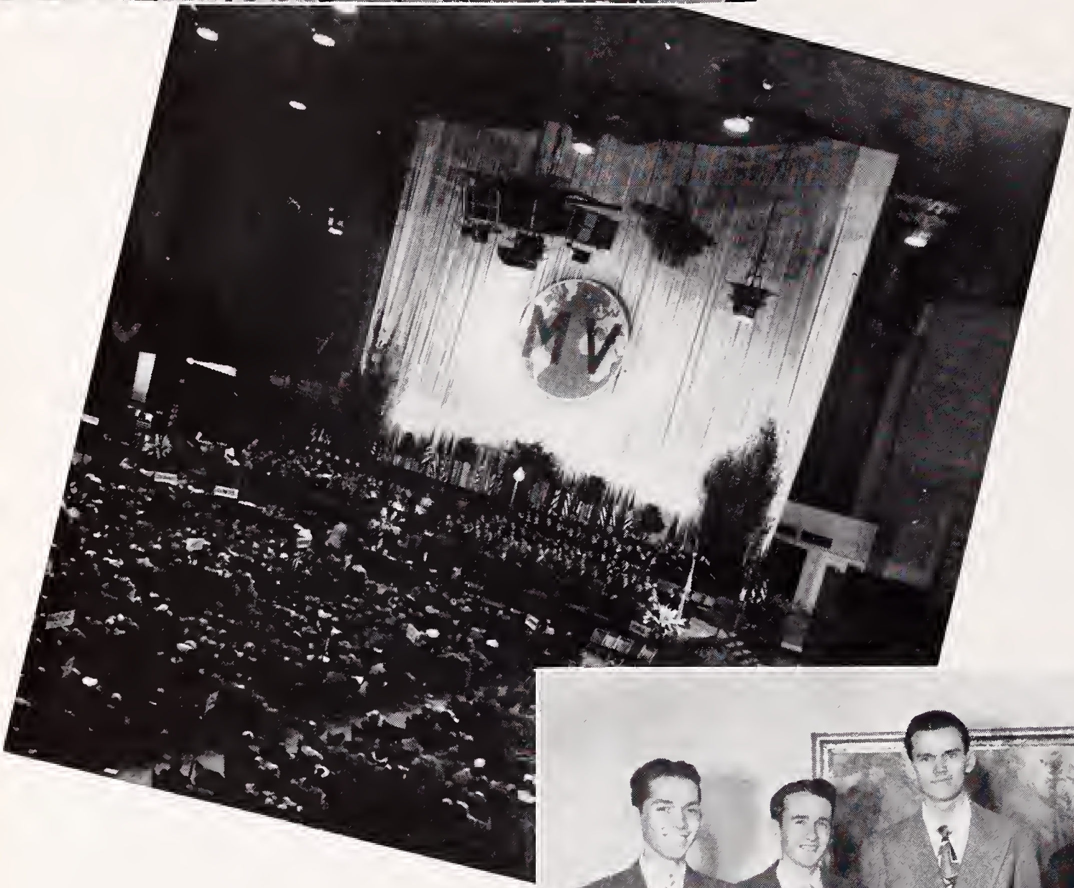
First and second semester Sabbath School officers face the camera in front of Hole Memorial Auditorium. They are Grace Robinson, Reinhold Tilstra, Beatrice Short, Harry Garlick, Alice Lacey, Harris Mullen, Mary Neuman, and Colleen Hooper.



Both the Sabbath School and Missionary Volunteer officers profited from the huge Youth's Congress held in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium. Below, Moses Chalmers, Philip Dunham, Myra Webster, Harold Moody, Yvonne Yip, Howard Hardcastle, and George Walper were Missionary Volunteer officers for the first and second semesters.

Chemistry

The Chemistry Club's Faculty Sponsor Louis Palmer, President Harold Knight, Vice-president Bill Dunbar, and Secretary-treasurer Joan Goude go into a huddle in Professor Palmer's office.

Mu Beta Kappa

Fathers and sons enjoy after-dinner music furnished by the La Sierra Male Chorus at the Mu Beta Kappa sponsored Father and Son Banquet.

Teachers of Tomorrow

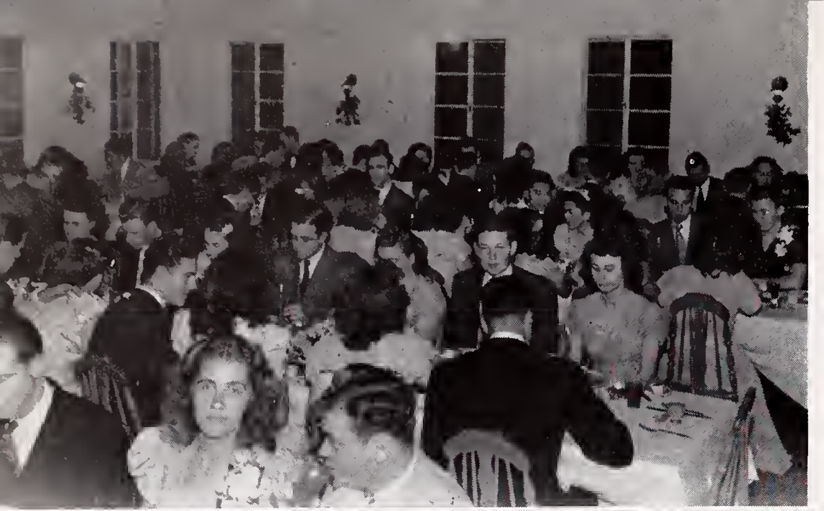
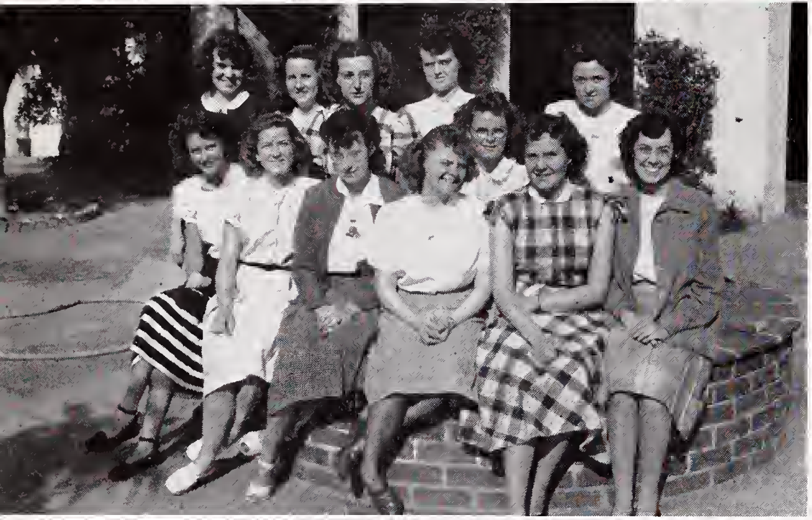
International Relations

First and second semester officers of the International Relations club relax on the campus. They include past Vice-president Luella Baird, past President Roger Coon, Vice-president Clifford Davies, President Jim Harris, Secretary-treasurer Gloria Correnti, Faculty Sponsor Wilfred J. Airey, and past Secretary-treasurer Lilah Nahorney.



Commercial

Members of the Commercial Club enjoy relaxing at a banquet. Fred Rasmussen and Albert Maas have been presidents of this year.



Filomena

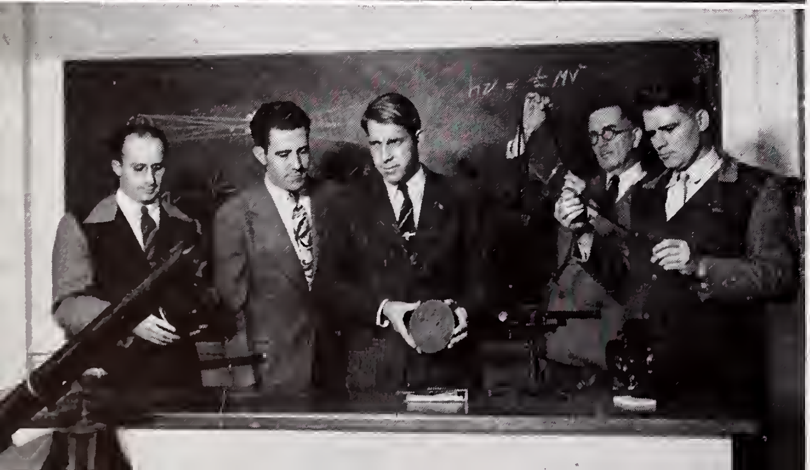
Music

President George Walper of the Music Guild has a committee meeting with his helpers, Moses Chalmers, Donna Lee, Miss Betty Saunders, Dorothy Nelson, and Irene Simkin.



Physics

Erman Stearns plans a demonstration with other members of the Physics Club. Mr. James Riggs, Marvin Seaward, Erman Stearns, Dr. Julian Thompson, and John Ingels.

Industrial Arts

William Davis and Carl Swigart, officers of the Industrial Arts Club check over a blueprint.

American Temperance Society

Members of the Executive Council of the La Sierra Chapter of the American Temperance Society pose under a spreading pepper tree. Included are Vice-President H. O. Collier, President Harold Baker, James Scott, Vice-President John Gilchriese, Faculty Sponsor Julian Thompson, Beatrice Short, and Moses Chalmers.

Sigma Phi Kappa

Dolores Meason presents the gavel of Sigma Phi Kappa to incoming President Luella Baird. Seated are Ree Jackson, Ruth Rees, Donna Lee, Lois Mills, and Cloey Murray.

Colporteurs

President Cleatis Laney of the Colporteur Club gives some instruction in salesmanship to Secretary Helen Szabo. Watching are Beatrice Short, Paul Hawks, Sidney Allen, Jacqueline Mallett, and Leslie Aggers.

Veterans

The Veterans chose as their officers Fred Rasmussen, Channell Rockwell, Donald Calkins, president, Guy Nelson, Bryce Hickerson, Carl Nydell, and Keith Rich.

Master Comrades

The Master Comrade Club had a large investiture service under the direction of Effie Jean Potts, Elder Walter Specht, Marshall Horsman, Moses Chalmers, and Elsie Spinks.

Biology

Biology club officers were Mr. Lloyd Downs, John Clarke, Robert Nelson, Kenneth Gard, president, John Mortenson, and Herman Mirkin.

Arts and Letters

A dinner at Clifton's was a pleasant interlude on the Guild field trip. Noel Newhard had charge of the program of the day which was a visit to Forest Lawn to see "The Last Supper" and a tour of an art gallery in Los Angeles.

La Sierra Flying Clubs

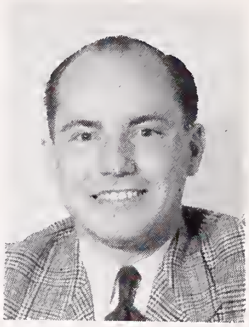
College

Editor-in-chief Milton Murray, linotype operator, army surgical technician in Alaska, Associated Press correspondent and present English major, guided this year's "Criterion" to an All-American Honor rating awarded by the National Newspaper Critical Service of the Associated Collegiate Press.



Business Manager
Clarence Laue

Editors Bill Norton, Milton Murray, and Dorothy Terry with Faculty Advisor Walter Crandall formulate policy, cut copy, and get the paper out.

Feature writers Bob Daniel, Joy Hicklin, Marjorie Brill, Luella Baird, Bruce Semmens, Sidney Allen, Ellsworth Wellman, and Clifford Davies are in a huddle over a new issue of the "Criterion."

Bob Paddock flying the 120 Cessna of the La Sierra Flying Club is circling over the college just prior to dropping Editor Milton Murray's airborne issue of the "College Criterion" thanking the students of L.S.C. for their school spirit and perseverance in putting the "Criterion" campaign over the top.

Criterion

READ your "Criterion!" It is your school paper promoting Christian Collediate ideals! This has been the theme song of your "Critter" staff during the past school year. Since Editor Milton Murray, with a skeleton crew, launched the 1947-48 "Criterion" last July 23, the "Criterion" not only has endeavored to give a complete and interesting coverage of campus news, but has led the way in sponsoring worthy enterprises ranging from the "March of Dimes" drive for victims of poliomyelitis to a newsboard for the benefit of news-hungry scholars.

Typist Cloey Murray and Secretary Beatrice Wong collaborate while Cartoonist Wesley Kime watches over Copy-reader Bob Hauser's shoulder. Could it be an action shot?

Reporters Donna Lee, Arland Richards, Lilah Nahorney, Jesse Stephens, Walt Cason, and Frank Jobe gather round the "Criterion's" well-worn desk. At least they're all in the picture.

First Semester "Criterion" Business Manager Fred Harriman and Circulation Manager Bob Vannix consult with Publicity Director Glenn Reynolds.

The Meteor

The METEOR business staff consisting of Advertising Manager Emmett Watts, Secretary Mary Neuman, Business Manager Kenneth Cope, Circulation Manager Arlene Engevik, and Secretary Evadna Herring check and recheck the books. To Georgene McDononough, Carolene Olson, Evelyn Sheldon, Greta Christensen, and Annetta Schmidt fell the tedious task of scheduling students for the individual METEOR portraits.

CEPHALALGIA is a term which could be synonymous with METEOR. Now maybe you don't understand cephalalgia, but take our word for it — it means headache. Don't get us wrong though, we have enjoyed putting out this Silver Anniversary edition commemorating the twenty-fifth year of La Sierra progress.

This conglomerate is the editorial staff of the 1948 METEOR. Typist Minoneta Dinius puts the scribbled copy into legible form. Photograph Editor Ardyce Hanson and Associate Editor Velma Whitaker edit some new pictures. Associate Editor Ross Giem holds a cut for the 1948 METEOR while Editor-in-chief Delos Champaign and Faculty Advisor Miss Lillian Beatty discuss a weighty problem. Literary Editor Bob Daniel gets an inspiration. Art Advisor Mrs. Chloe Sofsky contemplates putting another picture into the well-filled waste basket. A conglomerate? Yes. But each fills a place.

Editor-in-chief Delos Champaign, artist, sculptor, photographer, and writer, planned the Silver Anniversary edition of the METEOR. Editor Champaign, Biology major, plans to be an anatomical artist after he graduates from the College of Medical Evangelists.

Pat Bowden, who efficiently handled the appointment schedules for the METEOR portraits watches the Director of Public Relations, Willard McGee as he straightens his tie prior to his sitting.

Sculptors Vernon Curtis and Delos Champaign add finishing touches to the clay models as Art Associate Wesley Kime and Associate Editor Ross Giem interrupt long enough to get the dedication art work okeyed.

Official photographer Marshall Horsman comes out of the dark room to have his picture taken. This is the fifth year that Marshall has done METEOR photography.

AWKWARD, inquiring freshmen; experienced, grade-conscious sophomores; wise, capable juniors; purposeful, consecrated seniors — such is the metamorphosis during four years of college life until the finished product walks proudly across the platform to receive his diploma. With the ability, knowledge, and vision acquired in college, the finished product then goes forth to begin his life work.

DUSTING chairs, correcting tests, milking cows, mowing lawns are among the many details of campus life seldom considered significant by students unless not done to our satisfaction. These minutiae mount up into hours of time and effort, which in turn provides a financial resource for many.

Bread Winners

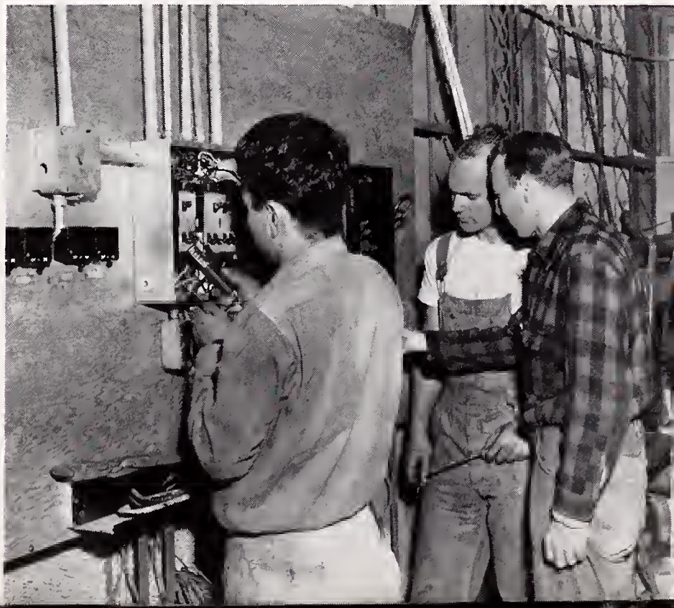
Burl Stahlman and Cloey Murray work on business machines.

In the registrar's office you may find Ree Jackson and Bruce Semmens.

No matter whether they ask "Is asbestos grown in South America" or "Where is my husband?" Rose Marie Hamm, Alice Hughes, and Barbara McNeil do their cheerful best to hunt up the information.

Aides de

If the fuse blows out, call Juan Cortes, Fred U'Ren, or Al Etling.



Readers Ray Hartwig, Beatrice Short, Francis Ownes, and Ina Hopson are appreciated by the teachers as they lift the heavy load of paper correcting.

Lab assistants Donald Shields and Joan Goude help Bob Paddock with that quant experiment.

Camp

Mr. E. W. Matheson, custodian, sees that the cleaning, scrubbing, dusting, and window washing is done well.

Rothman Lane and Bala Mangru help to make our campus an oasis in the desert.

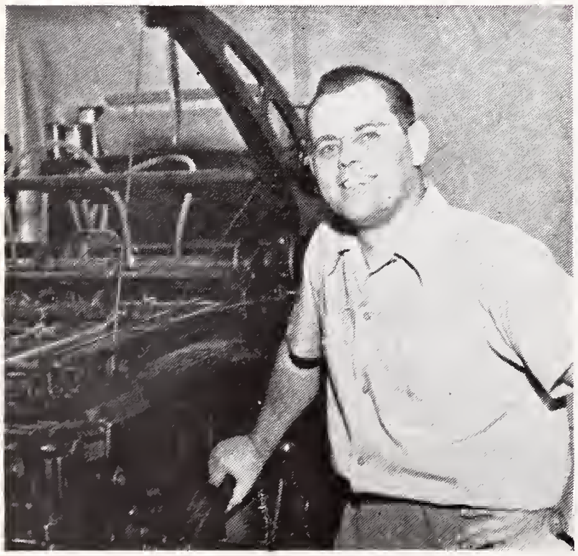
PBX girls Carol Coen and Dorothy Parker manipulate the plugs and greet you with a cheery, "Number, please."

Monitor Howard Hardcastle, sometimes called "soft-hut," gives a word of advice to George Walper before he calls Riverside 9432.

WALTER KENNEDY
Manager of the College Press

Printing

At the College Press, under the direction of Mr. Walter Kennedy and his helpers, a mixture of type, paper, ink, dummy, galley proof, copy, cuts, patience and skill can turn out to be bulletins, pamphlets, wedding invitations, "Criterions," and even a METEOR.

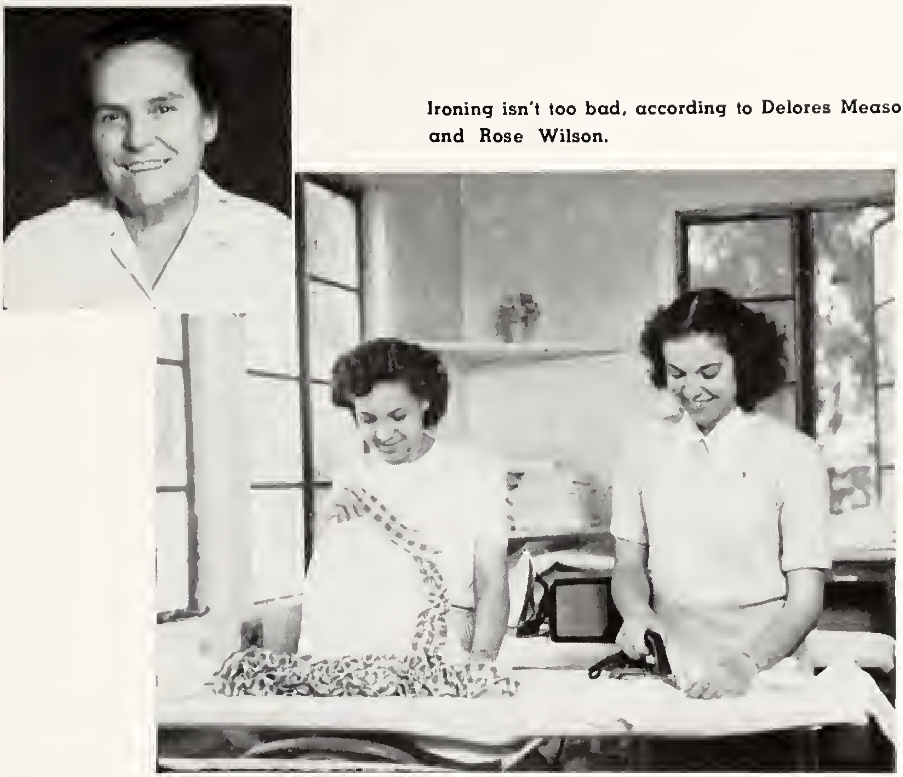


HARLAN MUTCHLER
The presses are ready to roll

Rolland Kime, Harry Zackrison, composition room foreman, and Dick Guy make up a galley in the "comp" room.

Cleaning

Ironing isn't too bad, according to Delores Meason and Rose Wilson.

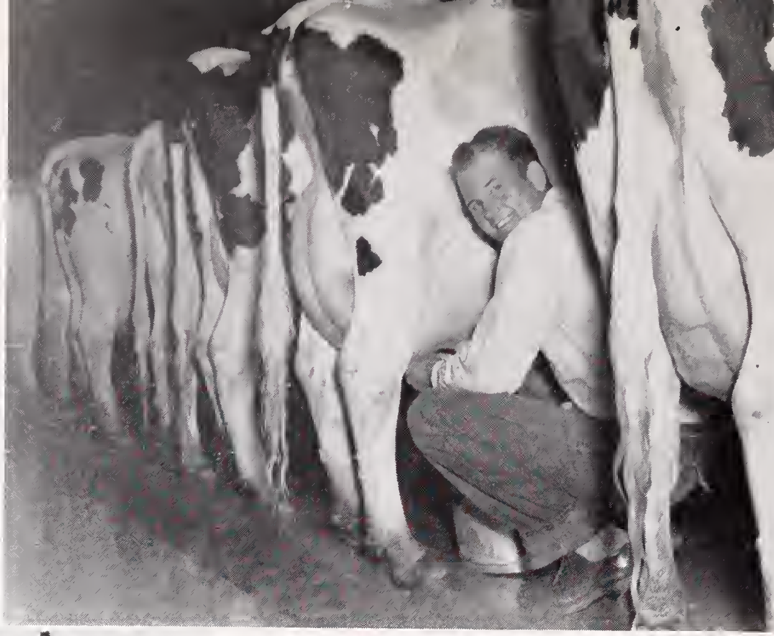


The laundry, under the supervision of Mrs. Pearl Guild, transforms smelly sox, soiled handkerchiefs, slept-in pajamas, rumpled sheets and pillow cases to fresh, clean, usable necessities.

Mail

"Oh, I'm so blue! I didn't get a letter from him today!" "Good! I knew mother would write." That old mail bag makes all the difference in the world, doesn't it?

Mr. R. W. Bickett and Mrs. Lillian Proctor hope you get the letter from home.



Don Martin getting intimately acquainted with the "friendly cow."

Through the open gate pass the long rows of cows you have seen peacefully walking out to pasture.

Producers

Cows, horses, chickens, peacocks, pump, barn, silo, tractor, hay, pasture, ice cream, milk. Ask Mr. G. E. Stearns, the farm superintendent; he knows all about it. The dairy is a busy place, supplying milk to much of the surrounding community.

G. E. Stearns, superintendent of the college farm, is proud of this Palamino.

Consumers

BUSILY we begin our breakfast — eggs, toast, and orange juice. Dazedly we dash to dinner — corn, beans, potatoes, vegetable salad, and apple pie. Smilingly we saunter with our friends to supper — banana, ice cream, and milk. For all this we thank you who buy, peel, can, cook, bake, wash, wipe, and serve.

The cameraman caught a few of La Sierra's consumers in action with one of the cafeteria's many picture windows serving as background.

John Moore, Dale Larsen, Cecil Daugherty, and Beverly Freese do the dishes. They are aided by modern machinery in handling the thousands of eating utensils which are used daily by the cafeteria.

Cooks Harold Towsley and Jesse Jeys confer with Cafeteria Director Mrs. Anna Van Ausdle. Mrs. Van Ausdle supervises the buying and preparing of the many tons of foodstuffs consumed by the college students each year.

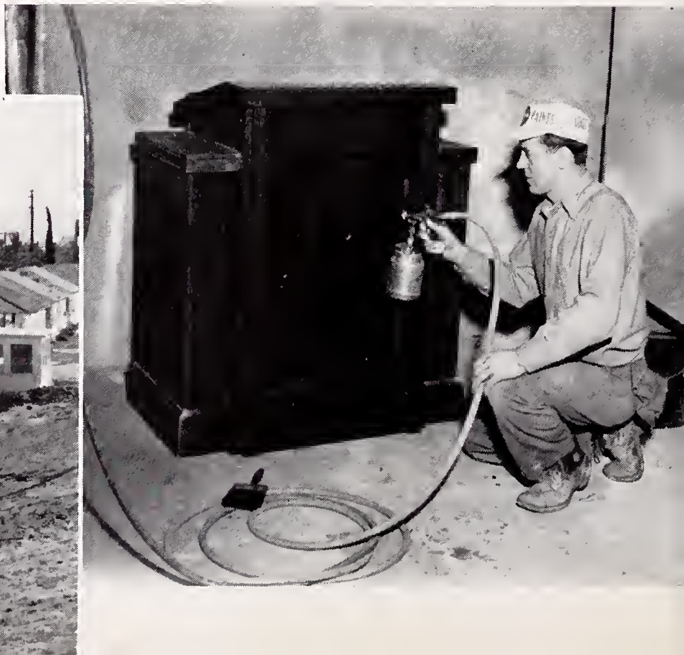
Richard Larson, welding

Mr. John Dean shows Jimmy Zackrison how to plant flowers.

Wear 'n' Tear

Some fortunate faculty member may get to live in the new house being constructed by the carpentry class.

Edward Dederer uses a spray gun



Bob Rankin has heard that "Duz does everything."

Manager F. E. Romant, who has perfected a friendly smile and a cheerful greeting for everyone, checks over the gift cards.

College Store

Dr. Wilfred Airey and Harold Krohne wait patiently as Lila Barkhurst and Claudine Anderson wait on Marguerite Hannum.

"WHAT do you need?" Tooth paste or shoe polish, green onions or Dutch Cleanser, cottage cheese or gasoline, gift cards or fly spray. Yes, the College Store has it. In this miniature city a cosmopolitan group daily visit with their friends and leave with overflowing packages. Although the dollars may be fewer in the purse, a spirit of friendliness lingers in the heart. When the future store has expanded into more spacious quarters, you may be sure that the kindly Christian desire to serve will still characterize the relations between clerks and patrons.

DID YOU wear out your handshake at the opening reception? Did you feel stiff and sore after the "Criterion" snow picnic? Did you win a prize in the Spring Talent Festival? Did your "secret admiration" ask you to attend the banquet? Then you already know the meaning of highlights.

CLASS OF '68

TODAY we look back to honor the founders of our college. Equally important is it for us to look forward to that bright time in the future when you, our little brothers, will take our places. May you profit by our mistakes and emulate our virtues.

Little Brothers

Principal and Mrs. Digneo and Jay all enjoy the organ.

THE days in which we live demand that young people must have far more than an ordinary education if they are to succeed either materially or spiritually. Competition for jobs and standards set up by the professions demand the greatest of effort. In a world that is confused in its thinking and full of trouble, young people must have high ideals and a sure faith in God. No better way can be found to meet these challenges than the preparation that is afforded through Christian education. It affords the opportunity for obtaining the ideals, the sense of values, and the confidence in God that will make young men and women of service to the Master here and also prepare them for life eternal.

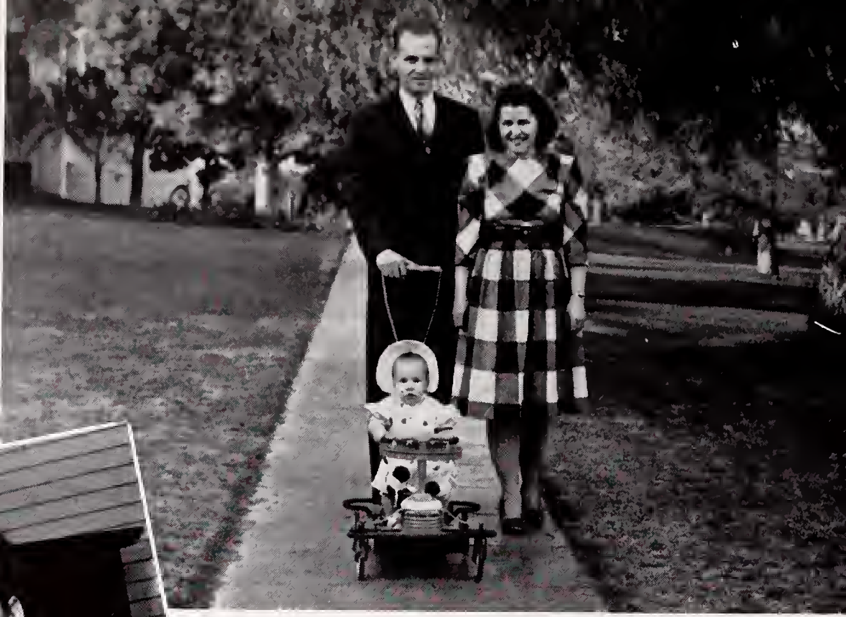
Elmer J. Digneo

Nellie Phillips manages the registrar's office and teaches classes in bookkeeping, business relations, and typing.

Albert C. Madsen and Adolphus Parker talk over a day's work in the classroom. Mr. Parker teaches chemistry and biology, while Elder Madson keeps busy with Old Testament history, Bible doctrines, youth's problems, and denominational history.

Martha Lorenz and Fedalma Ragon discuss their English classes. Miss Ragon teaches English grammar and literature. Miss Lorenz teaches English, home arts, and is the academy librarian.

Dorothy Vipond at her piano where a great deal of her time is spent with her voice students. When not busy with private lessons she is working with the Choir and Glee Club.



Floyd Woods, New Testament History teacher, and Kathryn Woods, teacher of American History and Government, enjoy a walk with small daughter, Beverly Kay.

Caroline Hopkins has a way of showing individual interest in her students. She teaches Geometry and World History. Another interest is her lovely flower garden from which she gives fragrant flowers to her many friends.

Mable Andre shows her collection of Spanish objects. She teaches Spanish and Mathematics.

NEW
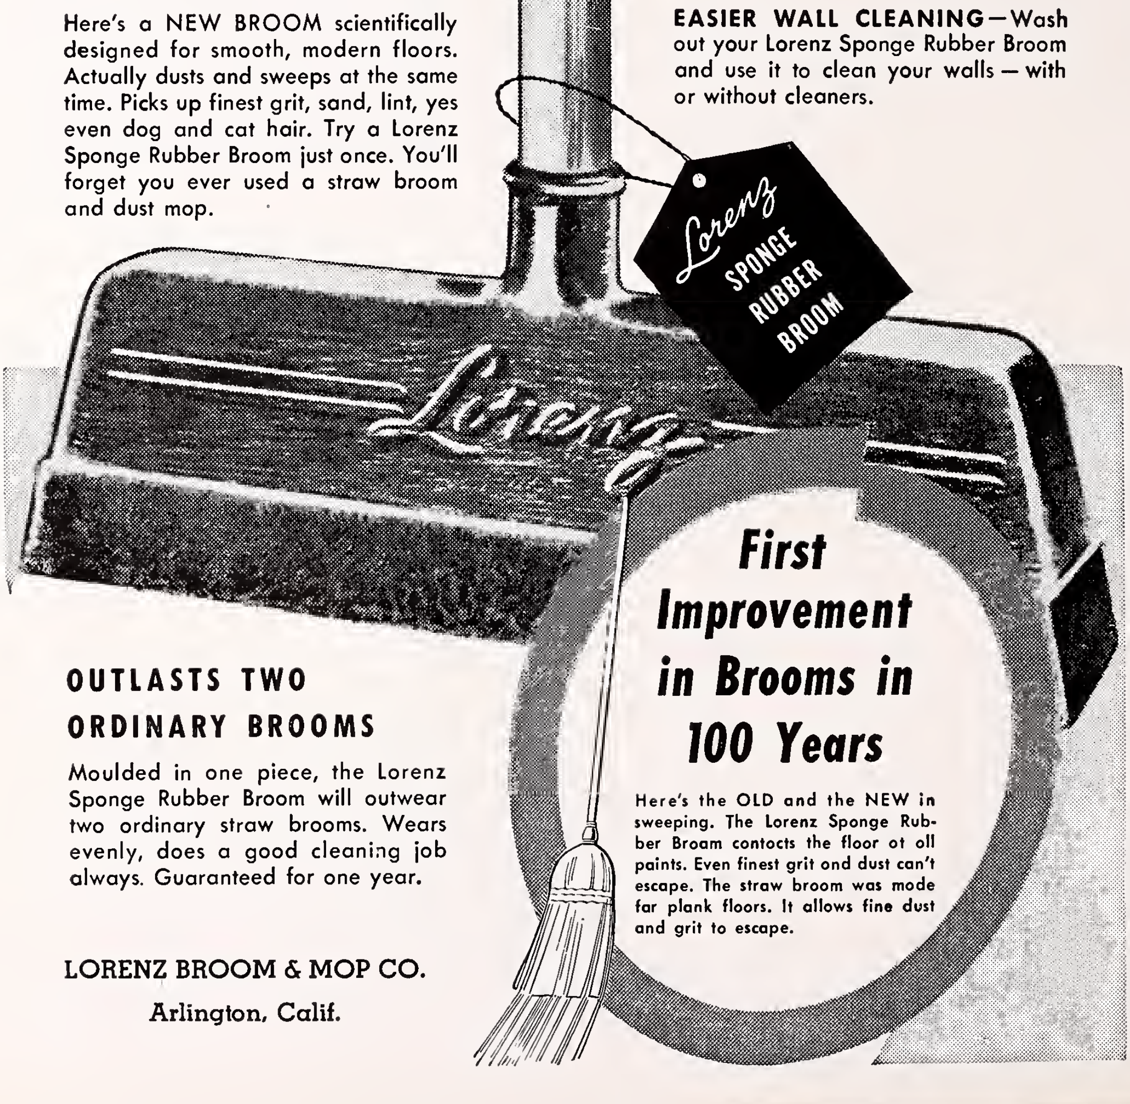
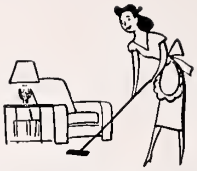
RUBBER BROOM

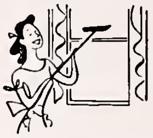


SWEEPS AND DUSTS—BOTH AT THE SAME TIME

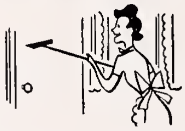
Here's a NEW BROOM scientifically designed for smooth, modern floors. Actually dusts and sweeps at the same time. Picks up finest grit, sand, lint, yes even dog and cat hair. Try a Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom just once. You'll forget you ever used a straw broom and dust mop.



UNDER LOW FURNITURE—No more moving pianos, davenports and other low pieces. The Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom gets under them all. No metal parts to scratch either.



FOR QUICKER WINDOW WASHING—The Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom is especially handy to reach higher windows. Gets into corners, too.



EASIER WALL CLEANING—Wash out your Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom and use it to clean your walls—with or without cleaners.

OUTLASTS TWO ORDINARY BROOMS

Moulded in one piece, the Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom will outwear two ordinary straw brooms. Wears evenly, does a good cleaning job always. Guaranteed for one year.

First Improvement in Brooms in 100 Years

Here's the OLD and the NEW in sweeping. The Lorenz Sponge Rubber Broom contacts the floor at all points. Even finest grit and dust can't escape. The straw broom was made for plank floors. It allows fine dust and grit to escape.
